

Permission to Reproduce or Adapt Materials

The Ontario Society of Nutrition Professionals in Public Health (OSNPPH) is the independent body of Registered Dietitians in public health. OSNPPH members work together and with other experts to create evidence-based resources related to public health nutrition in Ontario. These resources can be used as a basis for public-health related programs, policies and health promotion strategies.

3. The Ontario Society of Nutrition Professionals in Public Health and its members (“the Society”) are not liable for any suits, debts, claims, losses, demands, damages, costs, liabilities, expenses, proceedings, judgements and causes of action whether in law or in equity, howsoever caused, arising from errors or inaccuracies in the Work or from reproduction, publication, use and distribution of the Work.
4. To indemnify and hold harmless the Society from any and all suits, debts, claims, losses, demands, damages, costs, liabilities, proceedings, judgements, causes of actions and expenses incurred by OSNPPH, whether arising directly or indirectly from errors or inaccuracies in the Work or from the reproduction, publications, use or distribution of the Work.
5. That the Work is the sole and exclusive property of the Society, that the Society reserves all proprietary rights and interest in the Work and that the Grantee shall not modify the Work or any information contained therein without the prior written consent of the Society.
6. That the Grantee shall not reproduce, publish, use, copy or distribute the work except for educational purposes for free distribution and the grantee will not authorize or permit any other person to reproduce, publish, use, copy or distribute the Work without the prior written consent of the Society.
7. The Society is the source of the information contained in the Work and shall ensure that all copies of the Work bear the following notice: “Adapted and reproduced with permission from the Ontario Society of Nutrition Professionals in Public Health.”
8. That the Grantee will provide the Society with an electronic copy of the reproduced or adapted materials at no cost.
9. That in the event the Grantee requests to use the OSNPPH logo on the reproduced materials, the Grantee must fill out the “Permission to Use Logo” form.
10. That in the event the grantee fails to comply with any of these terms and conditions, in addition to other remedies available in law or equity, the Society has the right to immediately terminate the permission granted herein and the grantee shall immediately discontinue reproduction, publication, distribution and use of the work and return to the Society all copies of the work within five (5) business days.
